

Place the following Cards  in the Red Envelope  for the Grand Reveal at the end of the tournament:

Suspect: Mollianne Mulligan - Location: Card Room - Weapon: Weed Killer

Ladies and gentlemen, gather around as we unravel the chilling truth behind the murder of the surveyor at the golf course. In this suspenseful tale, we reveal the identity of the killer, the location of the crime, and the weapon used in this tragic incident.

The unsettling story begins with Mollianne Mulligan, known for her role as the Beverage Cart Girl, making her rounds on the golf course. She diligently served beverages and snacks to all the players, offering a comforting presence amidst the turmoil of the impending sale of the golf course.

On her route, she made a special stop at the Landscaping Garage to check on Frank Fairway, the head greenskeeper, who was deeply distressed about the course's sale. Frank was in the midst of concocting a batch of his weed-killing formula when Mollianne arrived. Unbeknownst to her, Frank had a freshly made bottle of potent weed killer in his hand, which he momentarily placed on her beverage cart as they engaged in conversation. She offered Frank a fresh beer, and the two commiserated, sharing their frustrations about the impending sale.

After their heartfelt discussion, Frank headed back to the garage to continue his work, inadvertently leaving behind the bottle of deadly weed killer on Mollianne's cart. Oblivious to its presence, Mollianne drove back to the clubhouse, where she made a stop in the card room to offer beverages to the card-playing patrons.

Inside the card room was the surveyor, engrossed in a game of cards. He requested a diet coke and a cup of ice from Mollianne. Knowing how close Frank was to realizing his dream of finding the perfect weed-killing formula and understanding the potential consequences of the surveyor's report, Mollianne hatched a sinister plan to delay the impending construction.

With a heavy heart but driven by desperation, Mollianne seized the opportunity. She discreetly added a splash of the deadly weed killer to the cup of ice and poured diet coke over it, creating a toxic concoction. Unaware of the impending danger, the surveyor consumed the poisoned drink.

As the card game continued into the night, the surveyor began to feel the effects of the poison. His stomach ached, and he remained seated while the others left the room. Hours passed, and he remained motionless in his chair, succumbing to the lethal poison.

The following day, the surveyor's lifeless body was discovered, an unfortunate victim of Mollianne's deadly plot to protect the golf course. Her actions, though driven by despair, led to this tragic incident that will forever haunt the once-tranquil grounds of the golf course.

If your verdict listed: Mollianne Mulligan as the Culprit, the Card Room as the Location, and the Weed Killer as the Weapon, congratulations on solving our Buried in the Rough Mystery!

Scan Phone to Hear Story Aloud

